Upstairs Class:
We welcome Zander Wortham, age 4, and James Jones, age 3, to our class. We continue to enjoy grace and courtesy, rhythm band, language, and math lessons. We are also making animal biome charts and geography maps. Our little ones are always busy everywhere and love measuring, pouring, washing tables, slicing fruit, and making banana pudding.

Outside Class:
We are on our last two sounds of the week. The children have really enjoyed this activity. I am working on some more fun ideas for us that I will tell you about next week. I urge you to participate. The kids really feel left out when they are not involved. The older children are learning to be responsible and write their own names on their work. We also have several who are beginning to read and to make words with the moveable alphabet. Please remember to make drop off and pick up quick, to keep traffic flowing and keep disruptions to a minimum. Feel free to message me if you have any questions or concerns.

Transitional Toddler Class:
We have a new friend, Connor, who joined our class this week. Addison from the infant class has also been visiting our classroom. Please bring your child’s favorite book for us to read at group time and some pictures of members in your family. Make sure to write their names on the back. Also, please make sure to look through your child’s spare clothes bag and refill with any necessary items.

Infant/Toddler Class:
We have many new friends in our class this month. Franklin Y., 1, has become friends with the other 1 year olds. Also new to our class are Charlotte C., Beckett D, Magnolia H., Everly J., Harper S., and Odin W. - all 3-6 months. It has been exciting to see a few of them rolling over this week. All of these babies are precious. They had their first outing in our emergency evacuation crib this week and they were snug and happy for the entire fire drill.

In Other News...

- There has been an increase in parents leaving their vehicles parked in the driveway for 5-10 minutes while dropping off or picking up. We ask that if you must spend time inside the building that you kindly park on the street or in a manner that will not prohibit others who are in a hurry from getting in or out as quickly as possible.
- Some parents and Guardians have been seen speeding thru the drive. PLEASE SLOW DOWN while driving thru campus!
