Juniors:

The Juniors have been working hard on their academics. Every morning and in the afternoon, these guys are studying things like counting money, multiplying two-digit numbers, and converting fractions into decimals. They seem to really enjoy their science lessons. This group continues to be mindful of safety during the pandemic.

Upstairs Class:

We are having a wonderful Spring. For Earth Week, we made mobiles, planted vegetables in the front garden, seeds in pots, and potted an oak tree for Arbor Day. Everyone is working beautifully, and several old friends have rejoined us. We will do a virtual recorded Spring Program this year. We have most of our costumes but would like to borrow some dinosaur masks if you have one. Please label masks, clothes, etc. and make sure your child has summer weight changes of clothes in his or her bag.

Outside Class:

Our class has had quite a few new children start in the last couple months. They have been busy learning the routine and doing lessons. Be sure to restock your child's bag with warm weather clothes. Also, a reminder that sandals, crocs, and rain boots are not recommended for our playground. Sturdy tennis shoes help avoid injuries.

Transitional Toddler Class:

We have several new children who have joined our class. We would like to welcome Irene, August, and Phillip. Summer School is going to start soon. Your child will need a change of clothes, swimsuit, towel, water shoes, sunscreen, and bug spray. Snack calendars are posted on our FB group. Please bring a make up snack if you forget your day. Feel free to bring snack on the days that say open.

Toddler Class:

We have been working on practical life skills such as sitting in a chair, cleaning up their own snack and washing their hands. We continue to practice our sign language, learning primary colors, and counting to three.

Infant Class:

We have welcomed our new friends Frankie and Penny and love having them in our class. The kiddies have grown so much since starting in our class. They have mastered rolling over, scooting, grabbing objects, standing/pulling up and one trying to walk. Some have mastered eating solid foods while others are just getting started. If you have not updated your child's spare clothing supply with weather appropriate clothing, please do so. If you have received supply slips requesting certain items, please bring those in as soon as possible.
